Comprehensive Cancer Centers of Nevada Appoints Executive Director

Las Vegas – Comprehensive Cancer Centers of Nevada (CCCN) appointed James Kilber as its executive director. Kilber will oversee the practice's business operations, development, clinical and radiation services, and its day-to-day operations.

Prior to joining CCCN, Kilber served as chief executive officer for Desert Radiologists in Las Vegas. He began his medical career as a radiologic technologist, working in emergency rooms, trauma centers, operating rooms and intensive care units in North and South Dakota, and Montana. He has held many leadership positions during his career including radiology manager and chief operating officer.

Comprehensive Cancer Centers of Nevada is the premier group of medical, pediatric and radiation oncologists in the state with seven cancer centers throughout the greater Las Vegas Valley. The radiation oncology services offered by the group are accredited by the American College of Radiology. With a specialized physician and nursing staff, Comprehensive Cancer Centers of Nevada offers sophisticated diagnostic tools, the latest advances in cancer treatment, a full range of innovative, exclusive services and research-based care in a supportive and caring environment. Physicians are board-certified in the fields of medical oncology, hematology, pediatric oncology and radiation oncology. The group is comprised of 15 medical oncologists, five radiation oncologists and two pediatric oncologists.

Comprehensive Cancer Centers of Nevada is affiliated with US Oncology, the largest network in the nation treating cancer patients. The association provides practice physicians with the opportunity to confer and consult with more than 900 physicians nationwide regarding patient care and research protocols.
